

INDICTMENTS RETURNED AGAINST PACKERS

Grand Jury Takes Action in the Case of National Packing Company

GOVERNMENT ALSO ACTS
IN CONCERT WITH JURY

Enters Plea in U. S. Circuit Court for Dissolution of the National Packers

CHICAGO, March 21.—Indictments charging the National Packing Company and its subsidiary companies with combination in restraint of trade, were returned today by the Federal grand jury. Simultaneously the government prosecutors filed a bill in chancery in the United States Circuit Court asking for the dissolution of the National Packing Company.

The grand jury did not return indictments against any persons connected with the company. It's investigating order was received from Attorney General Wickersham a week ago.

Other companies named in the indictment are the Continental Company, the Armour and Swift companies, and their branch concerns, and nearly a score of other smaller organizations.

ORANGE SITUATION IS DECIDEDLY FAVORABLE

REDLANDS, March 21.—The orange situation this week is more promising than at any time earlier in the season. The shipments are going out in liberal quantities, but the markets are absorbing the fruit rapidly and the prices are satisfactory for good stock. The Florida season is practically closed and the few Porto Rico oranges left will not long be a factor in the market. The navel is holding on nicely and shipments will not be concluded for six or seven weeks, though other varieties will be moving before that time. The shipments from Redlands the past week totaled 176 cars, making the season's total now 1411 against 2114 to the corresponding date last year.

SOCIETY WANTS NATION TO INVESTIGATE QUAKES

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The Seismological Society of America, in which are nearly all the eminent scientists of the Pacific Coast, has inaugurated a movement for the establishment of a national bureau of seismology, which will establish observing stations, study and investigate special earthquake regions in the United States, and co-operate with similar organizations throughout the world. It is proposed that the organization of this bureau shall be directed by the Smithsonian Institution, with government assistance. The project has been submitted to President Taft and a congressional committee.

TROUSERETTES ARE FAD AT CORONADO

SAN DIEGO, March 21.—Miss Eleanor Sears, the eccentric Boston millionaire's daughter, and her trouserettes divided attention with the poloists among the several thousand spectators at Coronado yesterday. She appeared on horseback, in knee length skirt over trouserettes, and was not the least bit mindful of the furore she created. In fact she has enlisted in the cause Miss Pauline Fish, daughter of Stuyvesant Fish, who is visiting here. Miss Fish will adopt the new riding costume and it is said a number of Coronado Beach women will also take up the fad.

Weather Forecast
Southern California: Rain tonight; brisk to high southeast winds.

Hold the Party to Its Mission

Does any true Republican dare look his neighbor squarely in the eye and say that this degraded machine organization in California, dominated by the Southern Pacific railroad's political bureau, before which every Republican organization candidate must crawl and make terms before he can aspire to the legislature or the judicial bench, is fairly representative of the political principles of Abraham Lincoln or Theodore Roosevelt?

If not, then Republicans are true to their party only as they rescue the party from its grip and restore it as a means of registering the people's will on vital issues.—Pasadena News.

This Month of March Has Already Set High Mark for Number of Building Permits

Santa Ana is progressing steadily. The month of March has already broken a building record in this city. The record is for the number of permits issued. With ten days still to go, twenty-five permits have been issued by Building Inspector Roper. The aggregate amount of the permits will not make as much of a showing as several of the big months last summer and fall, when permits were being issued for some of the business blocks, churches and school-houses recently completed.

Most of the permits this month have been for new homes, substantial dwellings, many of them costing between $2000 and $3000.

Recent permits are:
To Prescott Allen, story and a half cottage on McClay street, $3000.

To W. H. Bullard, A. C. Black contractor, story and a half bungalow at 829 French street, $2500.

To L. A. Galloway, H. A. Skiles contractor, residence at 1121 North Broadway, $2600.

To Henry Isenberg, A. E. Bird contractor, cottage at 1221 East First, $3000.

To E. P. Stafford, J. W. Blee contractor, story and a half bungalow at 2511 North Main street, $2500.

To W. N. Baker, A. C. Black contractor, alterations at 600 Cypress, $900.

To Charles Goodman, cottage at 324 East Twentieth, $900.

To A. C. Twist, G. E. Preble contractor, alterations at 1358 North Broadway, $400.

To G. E. Morton, C. Davis contractor, garage at 431 West First, $60.

GOT JUDGMENT AGAINST HIM

Former S. P. Agent at West
Orange Did Not Appear at Trial Today

Judgment for $584.54 was given in the superior court this morning against Gilbert Sproule, formerly Southern Pacific agent at West Orange, now holding a water front position in San Francisco under appointment by the state. The judgment is in favor of the First National Bank of Santa Ana, which sued in behalf of a bank of Wayne, Ill. Suit was brought on two notes signed by Sproule and six other local men for the purchase of a stallion in 1906 from Dunham & Fletcher of Wayne, Ill.

Two $1200 notes were signed by J. R. Fowler, Gilbert Sproule, R. A. Fuller, Fred Gerken, J. F. Conley, A. J. Joplin and H. L. Wakeham. Sproule failed to pay for his share of the notes, and hence the suit. The defense did not appear at the trial. Attorney Clyde Bishop represented the plaintiff.

J. F. Conley, some months ago, was sued by H. L. Wakeham on these same notes.

ROOSEVELT OVER- WHELMED BY MAIL

Gives up Effort to Answer It—
Views Temples and Obelisks at Luxor

SHELLAL, Egypt, March 21.—After spending hours in hopeless efforts to answer the piles of accumulated mail, Col. Roosevelt today gave up the hopeless task, and departed with his party for Luxor, where he is due to arrive at 5 o'clock today. He asked the United Press to advise his friends that it is impossible to answer personally all the letters and telegrams he has received, but that each is appreciated. The principal entertainment at Luxor will be a sight seeing trip to the temples and obelisks. One day will be spent there.

CRISIS IN CONFERENCE WAS EXPECTED TODAY

CHICAGO, March 21.—After four days of persistent efforts to adjust the differences between the 32,000 locomotive firemen on forty-nine western railroads and the railroad officials, not a single point has been conceded by either side and the crisis is expected to come today. The general opinion last night is that a strike is certain.

GREAT SHAKE- UP OF POLICE

Fifty Frisco Police Officials
Transferred to New Posts
in the Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The promised shake-up of the police department came today when fifty officers, including captains, lieutenants, corporals and patrolmen, were changed to various city districts for "the good of the service." The change was the most sweeping in the history of the department, and is in keeping with other municipal changes following the entrance of the McCarthy administration.

MISSOURI FARMER MAKES BIG ZINC FIND

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 21.—Zinc has been struck in commercial quantities on a farm owned by F. W. Neidermeyer of Columbia. The tract is situated twelve miles northwest in the Blackfoot coal region. E. L. Daugherty and Samuel W. Downing, who live in Columbia, made the strike. Zinc ore in chunks as big as a hen egg were found in a shaft that went down eighty feet. The building on the Kansas City to St. Louis electric railway, now surveyed almost to Kansas City from Columbia, will permit the development of the property.

BELL AND CURRY SPEAK FOR ASIATIC EXCLUSION

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—"If the government does not give ear to the pleas of the people of this state, in their just demand for the exclusion of all Asiatics, then it will be our duty to exhaust every resource under the constitution to protect the interests of its people," said Theodore A. Bell, candidate for Democratic nomination for governor yesterday, to a meeting of the Asiatic Exclusion League.

Charles F. Curry, secretary of state, was also among the speakers, and agreed with the purposes of the league regarding exclusion.

UNITED STATES SHIPS TO GO TO BUENOS AYRES

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The cruiser South Dakota joins the cruiser Tennessee off the Farallone Islands tomorrow afternoon, and the two warships will begin the 8500-mile voyage to Buenos Ayres through the Straits of Magellan. The vessels join the armored cruisers Montana and North Carolina, and later they will represent the United States in the naval demonstrations at the Pan-American exposition which is to be held in Buenos Ayres.

REGULARS TO DOMINATE CAUCUS ON RULES

Cannon Forces After Control of Committee Under New Scheme

INSURGENTS RESTING
ON HARD WON VICTORY

Norris Says Triumph Means
Free Discussion of All Legislative Measures

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The greatest result of the rules revolution in the House will be a full discussion of the Taft legislative program from the floor, according to insurgent leaders today. Norris of Nebraska, the author of the revolutionary resolution, said.

"The House has demonstrated that it can do what it pleases no matter what the rules committee may do now, and we'll get a free discussion of all measures where such discussion is necessary. It is the first step toward the fulfillment of the Republican platform pledges."

Today's session of the House was without incident, routine business being transacted. The insurgents appeared content to permit regulars to name the new rules committee. Norris declared that his object was not to oust Cannon from the speakership but to break his dictatorial power. "Before we oust him completely," he said, "we must have more against him than now."

The feeling is prevalent that if the Burleson resolution to oust Cannon had not been presented, a new speaker would have been chosen before the end of the week. The resolution appeared just when a wave of sympathy for Cannon was sweeping through the House, and he received a personal endorsement in the defeat of the resolution. Champ Clark declared himself well satisfied, and predicted no further trouble at present. "Things are now in better shape than for twenty years," he said. When the house was opened today the galleries were packed and the floor crowded. Almost every member was present. Speaker Cannon appeared drawn and tired, and during the early session he was very irritable.

Regulars Seek Control

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The organization members, partially recovered from the explosion in the house on last Saturday, are planning the reorganization of the rules committee of the house under the new scheme. It is admitted today that the Cannon forces will control the caucus that names a majority of the new committee and that the insurgents' only victory will be in ousting Cannon from membership.

Among the regulars certain of seats on the new committee are Dalzell of Pennsylvania, Payne of New York, the author of the tariff bill, Smith of Iowa, Tawney of Minnesota, Mann and McKinley of Illinois, and Vreeland of New York are also mentioned. Norris, the author of the ousting resolution, will probably be the only insurgent. Champ Clarke, the Democratic house leader, Underwood and Clayton of Alabama, Fitzgerald of New York, James of Kentucky, Hay of Virginia, Howard of Georgia, and Henry of Texas are Democratic possibilities.

LONDON ALARMED AT KING'S ILLNESS

Physicians Declare No Cause for Worry But Reports Are Disquieting

LONDON, March 21.—Official London is thoroughly alarmed today, despite the favorable reports issued by his physicians, over the fact that King Edward did not leave his apartments yesterday. He is still suffering from acute bronchial trouble. Yesterday his physicians remained with him continually. While they declared that there was no cause for worry, the report has spread that his condition is serious.

Avocado As An Ornamental Tree

Avocado or Alligator Pear on the place of James Fullerton, Orange.

(By James Fullerton of Orange in the California Cultivator)
Aside from its intrinsic value as a fruit tree—in which line it promises to rival any that grow in this region—the avocado possesses great value as a shade and ornamental tree. The tree here illustrated is eight years old and is twenty-five feet high, which goes to show that it is a vigorous grower under favorable conditions. It can be brought into any shape desired. The natural inclination is to grow tall, but it will bear cutting back without injury. It is an evergreen and its foliage rivals the magnolia and rubber trees in beauty. In addition to possessing a pleasantly pungent odor when pressed. It will stand a greater degree of frost than the orange tree and the elasticity of its branches enables it to stand high winds without injury. I have three varieties in my garden, differing considerably in size of leaf and character of bloom. The bloom on the tree here shown is not conspicuous, being but a shade lighter in color than the leaves, but on another tree the bloom is very conspicuous, equaling the hydrangea in size of clusters, its lemon-yellow bloom almost covering the tree. I believe the avocado is practically immune to scale. Black, red and greedy scale abound on other trees in the vicinity, yet my avocados are free from them.

I would advise that every owner of a suburban lot have at least one avocado tree. It will afford excellent shade, be a thing of beauty and will in time produce a fruit that can be converted into a salad second to none in richness. Avocados, or alligator pears of good size command from $3 to $5 per dozen on the Los Angeles market in the winter season.

CAR STRIKE NOT SETTLED

Strikers Committee Rejects Compromise Offered by Car Company

PHILADELPHIA, March 21.—By a vote of twelve to eleven the executive committee of the carmen's union today rejected the Rapid Transit Company's proposition for a settlement of the strike. The vote was taken after an all night session. The compromise was proposed by the Transit officials, and drawn up by President W. D. Mahon of the International Carmen's Union. The carmen's executive committee rejected the advice of Mahon that the compromise be accepted. It insisted on a full recognition of the strikers' demands.

What action the strikers will take now is problematical. It is known that the Transit officials declared that if the negotiations for a compromise failed, no further attempt to settle the difficulty amicably would be made. The strikers declared they would hold out until the traction company, through a general strike, was forced to comply with their demands. Their leaders said that none was deserting the cause.

MAYOR REYBURN OFFERS HIMSELF AS MEDIATOR

PHILADELPHIA, March 22.—Following a conference between Mayor Reyburn and President Kruger of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, the latter issued a statement, embodying terms upon which the company would meet the striking carmen.

The mayor, in a letter addressed to the carmen, said he had offered to act as mediator between the carmen and the company, and has advised the former to accept the new terms, saying that they would be sure of "fair treatment" if they did so.

This is the first time the mayor has offered to act in the interests of arbitration, and the conference held between himself and President Kruger, which lasted until 2:30 o'clock this morning, shows how gravely the situation is regarded by them. The carmen have not yet received the company's new offer. Their leaders are still in conference at their headquarters in the Lippincott building, after having rejected an earlier offer submitted by the company during the conference held at Senator Penrose's office.

REDLANDS ADVANCES THE PRICE OF MEAT

REDLANDS, March 21.—The Redlands meat market proprietors have announced an increase in the price of meat of twenty per cent, to take effect tomorrow. They claim the increase of prices by wholesalers several weeks ago has forced them to raise prices.

COX TO TAKE THE CASE UP

Decision of Justice Smithwick
Was in Favor of Defendant
Motor Car Company

Justice Smithwick has given judgment in favor of the defendant in the suit of Amos Cox against the Martin Motor Car Co. for $100. Cox will take the case to the Superior court on appeal. The garage sold an automobile belonging to Cox with the understanding that $100 of the amount received should be held out to apply on a new Maxwell of the 1910 model, not then in stock. Cox asserted that in some points the 1910 model was not as was represented it would be, and the garage stated that its representations were made on information from the Los Angeles office. However, Cox decided to buy a 1910 Maxwell, but when it came to getting it, it was found that the agency was with Hankey & Congdon, where Cox bought the machine. He then sued the Martin garage for the return of the $100, which was claimed by the defendants as remuneration for making the sale of the old machine.

CARNEGIE STARTS FOR MOUNTAIN TOP

Will Stay All Night on Mount
Wilson for Telescopic View of Heavens

PASADENA, March 21.—Following the receipt of word from Mount Wilson that the weather was perfect and conditions for telescopic work were ideal, Andrew Carnegie today suddenly decided to make the long deferred trip to the observatory he established. At 10 o'clock he entered an automobile at the Raymond Hotel, with his wife and daughter, President Scherrer of Throop, Director Hale of the Carnegie Observatory, Horace White, editor of the New York Post, and started for the trail. At the foot of the mountain, the party clambered into a wagon driven by Willard Downs, reputed to be the most careful whip in this section, for the rest of the trip. Carnegie declared he would remain on the observatory over night and be instructed in the mysteries of the heavens by Director Hale.

AWFUL WRECK OF TRAINS ON ROCK ISLAND

Consolidated Trains Follow Engines Into Ditch With Fearful Fatality

FORTY OR MORE PERISH
IN CRASH AND FLAMES

Disaster Occurred in Iowa, Near Reinbeck—Cause is Not Yet Known

DES MOINES, Ia., March 21.—Forty persons were killed and forty injured, many supposed fatally, in the wreck of the Rock Island passenger at Reinbeck, Iowa, today. This is the latest report from the scene of the accident. Three cars were derailed and every one in the second two, the chaircar and Pullman, lost their lives. Among the injured taken to Marshalltown were many reported to be dying. Every doctor in Reinbeck and surrounding villages were impressed into service and many of them accompanied the dying on the relief train which with a wrecking train left here. When the engines left the track three cars were piled up and fire started immediately. Farmers and villagers rushed to the scene, many bringing teams which were hitched to ropes and thrown around the wreckage. Many lives were undoubtedly saved by this means. The cars burned were the chaircar, baggage car and Pullman.

ACCIDENT WORSE THAN AT FIRST SUPPOSED

CHICAGO, March 21.—Rock Island officials here say that fourteen bodies have been removed from the wreck of the Rock Island train at Reinbeck, Iowa. It is believed twenty-five were killed and twenty-four injured.

The Reinbeck wreck occurred at 9 o'clock this morning. The consolidated trains, one of which left Chicago last night and the other from St. Louis, bound for St. Paul and Minneapolis, followed the double-header engine into the ditch. The exact cause of the disaster is undetermined.

REINBECK, Iowa, March 21.—A number of persons are reported killed in a wreck of a Rock Island train that was derailed over the Chicago & Great Western tracks because of another Rock Island wreck. The train was drawn by two engines and all of the cars were derailed. Both cars were overturned and it is reported that both engineers and firemen were killed. The estimates of the dead and injured vary greatly.

CANNOT HOLD FOR THE CITY

County Fumigation License
Does Not Bind Orchards
Inside Municipality

SAN BERNARDINO, March 21.—Great interest is being taken throughout this county in the decisions just rendered by Superior Judge Demore of Riverside, knocking out the fumigation ordinance, in so far as it has applied to incorporated cities. The case was carried to the Superior Court by J. B. Gooch of Corona, who was fined for fumigating orange trees within that city, without a license.

The Superior Court set aside the judgment of the lower court, on the ground that the ordinance, being merely a county law, could not apply to municipalities, which would have to draft their own laws in order to regulate the fumigation business. The great bulk of orange groves in San Bernardino and Riverside counties are within the corporate limits of Redlands, Riverside, Corona, Ontario, Upland and Colton.

MARVELOUS CURE OF CRIPPLED GIRL

Dr. Wiley of Los Angeles Has Successfully Performed
Lorenz Operation

Los Angeles Examiner. Yesterday morning three-year-old Katrina Bianchetti lay helpless in a little white cot at the Children's Hospital, silently suffering from a congenital dislocation of the hip and afflicted with a deformed spine. Last night the little child, babbling and happy, had the use of her two legs—she had never used them before—and she stood erect in her bed as straight and as fair as the other patients in the charity hospital.

For two hours yesterday morning, however, the little Italian girl was under the influence of an anesthetic while Assistant Police Surgeon E. H. Wiley performed upon her the rare operation, which is known to the medical profession as "the bloodless, painless Lorenz operation." He performed the same operation and in the same manner as did D. A. Lorenz, the eminent Vienna practitioner, upon little Lolita Armour eight years ago. The child, before going under the anesthetic, was helplessly crippled. Afterward she had the use of her limbs, and the prospects of becoming a well formed, healthy young woman.

IT'S ALWAYS BAD

The Best of Backs Are Bad
When They Ache, and Santa
Ana People Know It

—A bad back is always bad. Bad at night when bedtime comes. Just as bad in the morning. Ever try Doan's Kidney Pills for it? Know they cure backache—cure every kidney ill?

If you don't, some Santa Ana people do.

Read a case of it: Mrs. M. W. Davis, 768 Cypress avenue, Santa Ana, Cal., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in our family off and on for several years and the fact that they are a reliable kidney remedy has been proven beyond a doubt. The party who has used Doan's Kidney Pills was severely afflicted with kidney trouble, the chief symptom being pains in the back. On a number of occasions this person had been obliged to quit work, owing to the severeness of the attacks. Doan's Kidney Pills brought prompt benefit and they have been an unfailing means of relief in this case ever since."

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Cortelyou Wants Fewer Laws
George B. Cortelyou, former cabinet officer, derides the increasing flood of legislation in America. At a recent dinner he quoted statistics to show that last year some 13,000 laws were put upon the statute books of this country. He contrasted this work of our legislative bodies with the comparatively small output of Great Britain. He asked for fewer laws and better enforcement of those that were made. He said that such organizations as the county societies could greatly influence legislation.

Being the Subject

Suit has been brought by J. E. Jessup against Jacob Stern asking the court to instruct Stern to give Jessup a deed to 4.95 acres of land in the northern part of the county. The complaint filed today by Attorneys Jones and Evans of Los Angeles states that on Nov. 1, 1909, Jessup secured from Stern a contract to buy the property for $1485. In lieu of the remaining payments, Jessup says that on Feb. 15 he offered to pay Stern $885. He believes he should receive a deed now.

HUNDRETH ANNIVERSARY

San Bernardino to Hold Celebration in Memory of Historical Event

On May 20, 1810, a little band of Franciscan soldier missionaries entered a broad valley, girded by towering mountains, and before sun had sunk in the west, named the flower carpeted expanse stretching out before them in honor of a saint—San Bernardino de Sienna—whose feast day it was.

One hundred years have now passed since that historical event, when Padre Dumetz and his followers drove the first stakes of civilization in that then savage ruled valley.

The coming of a new century, however, into the history of that valley is not to go unnoticed and the citizens of San Bernardino, which was founded on that day by these missionaries, are now planning a gigantic celebration, commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of their city and the naming of the valley.

On May 20, 1910, before the eyes of thousands of people, there will be re-enacted on the very spot and beneath the same emblazoned Arrowhead, the scenes of that stirring day, one hundred years before. On the day that San Bernardino passes its century mark, a cross will be erected on the same spot where Padre Dumetz raised the emblem of his church. On this day the Catholic church will have become one hundred years old in the valley, and to fittingly observe this occasion the corner stone of the new cathedral will be laid.

For five days, three days before and one day after the day of the one hundredth anniversary, the citizens of San Bernardino and the valley will join in a spectacular celebration.

It is to be a celebration in the spirit of the early days—the days that have long since become only the recollections of the oldest pioneers. Several hundred Indians, from the wildest tribes of the Southwest, will be brought to San Bernardino for the occasion. The life of the early decades, before the days of the orange groves and tourists, is to be vividly portrayed. The same cavalcade of missionaries, neophytes, and soldiers, that first found their way into the valley, will re-enact, amid the ancient war dances of the Indians, a century ago were the only spectators, the scenes of that day a hundred years before.

The most prominent residents of San Bernardino, with a delegation from Colton, are now planning the details of that celebration, which is to be by far the most brilliant ever attempted in the confines of the valley.

MINUTIVE FARMS.

The Way Real Estate Is Divided Up In Portugal.

The Portuguese are an extremely conservative people. Every man follows rigidly the methods employed by his father and forefathers. In very many parts of the country the old wooden plows are still used.

When a man dies, instead of one of the heirs taking the whole property and paying the remaining heirs for their parts the whole property is divided into as many parts as there are heirs. More than this, each separate part of the property is thus divided.

Thus, if the property consists of ten acres of pasture land, eighty of vineyard and ten of grain land and there are ten heirs, each heir will receive one acre each of grain and pasture land and eight acres of vineyard. This process has been going on for a very long time, so that now in the most fertile part of Portugal the land is divided into incredibly small portions.

The immediate result of this, according to the United States consular reports, is that the product of the land is barely sufficient at best to sustain its owners. South of the river Tagus, on the other hand, there are enormous tracts of excellent land lying unused, but it has been found impossible to induce the farmers of the north to move into this region and take up large holdings.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

WHITWASHING COAL.

Not Done For the Sake of Neatness, but to Prevent Theft.

Persons who have been somewhat astonished by having whitewashed coal delivered to them will be interested to know that the whitewashing is not done to improve the appearance or to increase the burning qualities. The treatment neither improves nor harms the fuel.

It is a detective scheme on the part of the railroads to locate and to prevent theft of the coal as it is hauled from the mines to the consumer. These depredations amount to thousands of tons annually, and the railroads are the sufferers, as it is up to them to deliver as many tons at their destination, often a thousand miles away, as were weighed in when the car was turned over for transportation.

Two or three tons may be removed from a carload containing forty tons without attracting attention to its decreased quantity until the car is again placed on the scales. To locate the loss, says Popular Mechanics, lime-water is sprayed over a carload of coal. In a short time the water has evaporated, leaving a load of white coal. Then removal of any coal leaves a big black spot, which is quickly noticed by inspectors and station agents and the leak found and stopped.

A Nation of Borrowers.

Zanzibar appears, from a consular report, to be a place of universal borrowing. "Neither the Arab nor the Swahili," says the report, "has the slightest idea of thrift. The former, when he has sold his cloths, immediately spends the proceeds in entertaining or in the purchase of European articles for which he has little or no use. He then mortgages his property at a ruinous rate of interest or sells his next year's crop in advance at a price which would hardly pay for its harvesting, with the inevitable result that he is always up to his eyes in debt. The Swahili, if he happens to be out of debt at the beginning of the month, spends all his pay within a few days in food or native dances and has to beg, borrow or steal sufficient to maintain himself for the rest of the month. The money lender is in both cases the Indian, and the interest which he charges varies from 30 up to 300 per cent."

Managing a Servant.

One housewife declares that at last she has solved the servant problem. "Formerly I had untold trouble with my maids," she said. "They'd do well for awhile, and then they'd deteriorate so that I simply couldn't keep them. So I hit on this plan: When I noticed a falling off in the last maid's work I went into the kitchen and told her that, in addition to her fixed wages, she should have 50 cents extra every week that she did well. When she was only fairly good I'd give her a quarter, but on the weeks when she displeased me she'd get nothing. Nine weeks out of ten she gets her half dollar. It pleases her immensely, and I find the plan well worth while in the better service it secures me."—New York Tribune.

The Poet's Woo.

The Day of Rest.

"And now," said Mr. Fishback of Billville, "let us be thankful for one day of rest and get ready for church."

"Yes," said his wife; "run out and chop some wood and milk the cows and light the fire and make the coffee and wash the children while I bang my hair!"—Atlanta Constitution.

READER USE FOR BOND BIDS

Knocking Out of Gas Sale Also Knocked Out the Water Sale

Newport News: The trustees Tuesday evening decided to readvertise for bids on the water bonds the sale of which was knocked out on account of the gas bonds sold at the same time being declared invalid. The state bid a premium of $1300 on the bonds when they were advertised before but will not make a private bid and advised the city to readvertise the issue. The trustees expect to make the gas bond proposition wider in its scope when it is submitted to the people the next time and will include an electric light plant in the issue.

Trustee Ferguson was continued as a committee of one to obtain further data as to the cost of installing an electric plant including about eight miles of main line, twelve arc lights and fifty street lights, capable of furnishing electricity to about 400 connections. It is the purpose of the board to run the water works with electricity if the proposed gas and light bonds carry.

Practically all the details have been worked out between the trustees and the water company for the transfer of the plant to the city. The water company has agreed to give a deed to an acre of ground where the reservoir stands and to furnish the lumber for a covering for the big cement reservoir. It also agreed to make the city a present of the lot at Balboa on which the water tank formerly stood but it appears that this lot belongs to the Newport Bay Investment Co. and that the city will not get it.

W. S. Simpkins attempted to take his big launch "Elma" over the bar Friday in company with S. T. Pusey and Lem Murray but the tide was too low and the boat stuck on the bar. Val Brown, John Hewitt, Floyd Hemstreet, Rube Shafer and Dixon boys went to Simpkins assistance with launches and found the boat in no particular danger but that Simpkins had received a bad cut on the face caused by a breaker smashing the glass windshield over his head. Brown boarded the "Elma" and got her engine started again and run her back in the bay out of danger.

The road at Newport from the bridge crossing the Santa Ana river to the beach is being widened by the hauling in of dirt from the bluffs nearby. The widening of the road will prove of great convenience to the traveling public and at the same time lessen the danger of rigs being upset in the salt marsh when they attempt to pass one another.

A Good Move

Newport News: Street Superintendent Hermes and some of the enterprising business men have built a neat little park around the pavilion in front of the Parker block, in which flowers and vines have been planted. The park will soon add greatly to the appearance of the beach and will serve as a background for the unsightly array of fish boxes for passengers coming from the Southern Pacific trains. These fish boxes could be kept under the wharf just as well as not without working a hardship on any of the fishermen, and would make the beach look a great deal better. The park around the pavilion, however, is a move in the right direction and will be the first step toward keeping the beach neat and clean.

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John E. Ely of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Holcus Scutellaria): "It is one of the chief ingredients of the 'Favorite Prescription'."

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator," makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system. He continues: "In Helonias we have a medication which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Ely further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhea; a tonic (weak) condition of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding), due to a weak condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhea (suppressed or absent monthly periods), arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and a general (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a powerful tonic, and its ingredients are Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medicinal properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says: "It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions and general enfeeblement it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root: "In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal: "Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and consecutive dysmenorrhea (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

EARNED HIS BOARD.

Sir Thomas Lipton's Experience as a Hotel Runner.

"During the early part of my business career," said Sir Thomas Lipton in the London Strand Magazine, "I became imbued with the idea that it was possible to prosper quickly in America, and at the age of sixteen I left home and started for the United States. I had not dared tell my father and mother, so they only knew of the great step I had taken when I had gone. Had it not been for the kindness of my fellow passengers my journey would have been very miserable, and once or twice, I confess, I lost heart."

"I had no money for any one to go to when I arrived in New York, and before we landed I cudgeled my brains as to what I was to do. As the steamer drew alongside the pier I took up my few belongings and rushed away to the nearest hotel before any one else had left the vessel."

"As it seemed a clean, well kept place I asked to see the proprietor and told him that I could get him forty patrons, provided he would board and lodge me for a month. To this he consented. I made my way back instantly to the boat and was just in time to catch my fellow passengers and persuade them to go to this hotel, where I assured them they would get excellent accommodation. And they did."

LONG LIVED OLIVE TREES.

Groves That Have Been Productive For Many Centuries.

The longevity of olive trees is extraordinary. In Syria have been found some remarkably ancient olive trees whose ages are established beyond question. A trust deed exists which relates to an orchard covering 400 trees near Tripoli, Syria, the trust deed having been issued in the year 1410.

Though the trees look aged, they still bear fruit of fine quality in abundance and are likely to maintain their productivity for many hundreds of years. An olive grove near Beirut is admitted to be the third largest olive farm in the world. Syrian fruit farmers are extending olive culture with much zeal and effect.

Under European systems of culture the Syrians make the olive tree bear each season, while in the old days one crop in three years was thought to be all that the trees could produce. The low cropping capacity of the trees was due to the native method of thrashing the fruits from the branches with sticks, which seriously injured them.

The methods of grinding the olive for oil and picking the fruit are peculiar. Neither the grinders nor pickers receive wages, but are paid on percentage. The pickers receive 5 per cent of the actual fruit picked, and the grinders get 10 per cent of the fruit ground.—Dundee Advertiser.

How Whitman Helped Childs.

The poet Walt Whitman was, as is well known, dependent during most of his life upon the kindness of his friends and admirers for support. A few years before his death one of these friends called upon him in his little house in Camden.

"Well, Walt," he said, "how goes it this winter? Any subscription needed for Christmas?"

"No," said Whitman; "no, I'm at work now. I'm in the employ of George Childs. He pays me $50 a month."

"You at work! May I ask what is your occupation?"

"Why, I ride in the street cars. I fall into talk with the drivers and conductors and find out which of them have no overcoats and guess at their size and notify Childs, and then he sends the overcoats. It's not hard work," said the poet thoughtfully. "And then, you know, it helps Childs along."

Dangerous Insects.

The trolley car stopped in the middle of a stretch of country road. Both motorman and conductor tried in vain to find out what the trouble was. At last they gave it up, and the conductor started down the track to the nearest telephone.

"What do you suppose is the trouble?" inquired a passenger of his seat mate.

"Why, I don't know much about electricity," said the other, "but I should say it was the ohms. You see, they get into the wires every little while and make an awful fuss there. Technically, I believe, it is called resistance, but all it amounts to is stoppage—like eels in water pipe, you know. I never saw an ohm myself. They're microscopic, you know."—Youth's Companion.

The Joy That Killed.

A senator was praising the humor of a certain congressman.

"His humor, however," he concluded, "is rather grim. I told him the other day about a mutual acquaintance who had died, a man he had never liked."

"And his wife is dead, too," I said. "He himself died on Monday; his wife died two days later. The papers didn't say what killed her."

"She was tickled to death, I guess," said the congressman grimly."

The Man of the Hour.

END STOMACH TROUBLE NOW

Dyspepsia, Gas, Heartburn or Indigestion Go in Five Minutes

—As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion or some form of stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapiesin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula plainly printed on these recent cases of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will readily see why it makes indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn and other distress go in five minutes and relieves at once such miseries as belching of gas, eructations of sour undigested food, nausea, headaches, dizziness, constipation and other stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from indigestion and dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach with the common every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of nervousness, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach or cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, gas and stomach poison, which putrify in the digestive tract and intestines, and, besides, poison the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pape's Diapiesin.

Valjean's Bike Lost

Orange News: Editor Valjean of the Anaheim Plain Dealer, has lost a bicycle, which some thief-of-the-night did steal. The bicycle was not of recent vintage, but it was well loved by its owner and had a way of staying put when it was put. Editor Valjean, in all confidence, put it against the curb the other evening and somebody "snook" it. He more than half expected that they would bring it back after they had had a chance to inspect it in the daylight, but they did not bring it back. Therefore Editor Valjean has written to Marshal Jernigan beseeching aid in discovering the stolen wheel. Marshal Jernigan is bestirring himself to find it, as he knows that journalism in the Mother Colony will decline until that bike is recovered.

EDWARD B. OAKLEY

Whenever a good man dies in the prime of life the world sustains a distinct loss. This loss is, of course most keenly felt in the community in which he has lived and labored; for there, of course, the good influences of his life and the direct results of his labors have been most conspicuously manifest, and there alone is felt the personal loss that comes with the passing of those we have learned to love.

Thus it is, today, in Santa Ana, as we look forward to the morrow when all that is mortal of Edward B. Oakley will be borne to its last resting place in Los Angeles, where the floral offerings that will bury his bier in fragrance and beauty will be watered with tears of genuine sorrow.

Mr. Oakley was a gentleman and a scholar. His life was one of never-failing devotion to duty. His service to the community and the world was of the highest. With that modesty which is always a mark of true greatness in a man of ability and attainments, he went forward from day to day in his nerve-wracking, brain-wearing, soul-trying work of teaching school. His was the duty and opportunity of standing at the very fountain-head of the stream of life, and not only did he guard it from contamination, but he poured into it the elements of spiritual and physical strength and purity as well as those of mental attainments and achievements.

And although his pathway of life was not "mid scenes of pomp and healdry, nor his passing marked by solemn splendor, the tribute of triumph is his from the hearts of thousands who have been privileged to know his true worth as a friend, a teacher, a man.

IN DEFENSE OF DAVIS

Orange Post: The Post does not believe that an exchange is justified in saying: "One reason why the district attorney had the action brought is that he wished to determine whether or not his deputy should accept the salary provided for him, and he believed that nothing but a suit could determine the matter." Such a reason would indicate a low motive for plunging the county into litigation. The district attorney honestly believes, as do a great many others, that to increase deputy hire during a term of office is to increase the salary of the officer during such term in violation of the constitution. Under his oath he is obliged to support the constitution and protect the interests of the people for whom the government was instituted. His own deputy's salary is a mere incident that must take its chances with the others and can not be permitted to assume the importance of a "reason" for the suit. In fact it is a reason against the suit, and most men would have accepted the deputy salary on the say-so of the court of appeals; but the district attorney will not permit his personal interests to swerve him from performing his duty, as he sees it.

Some little time ago Phil Stanton invited the country press to meet him in a social way at the Jonathan Club in Los Angeles with a view of placing himself in rapport with the newspapers to get their help to make him governor of the state. About thirty accepted the invitation, among whom were some Democratic editors. Since that meeting a number of our exchanges have appeared with the same Stanton editorials, embracing introductory remarks and an article from the San Bernardino Sun. Of course, barring the typographical errors, the Sun article would be identical in all the papers; but how does it come that several editors widely separated think and express the same thoughts about that article in their introductions and do it at the same time?—Orange Post.

The two men talked for a time in the train. "Are you going to hear Barkins' lecture tonight?" said one. "Yes," returned the other. "Take my advice and don't. I hear he is an awful bore." "I must go," said the other. "I'm Barkins."—Life.

He had managed to accumulate a lot of money by more or less questionable methods. "I should like to do something for the benefit of the town," he said. "Well," suggested the poor but otherwise honest citizen, "you might move out of it."—Chicago News.

CURRY PROUD OF HIS ORGANIZATION

Horace McPhee, Geo. Angle and Clyde Bishop in Charge in Orange County

(SAN FRANCISCO CALL, MARCH 18)

Curry is especially proud of the organization which has directed the work on his petition. He said yesterday that in Los Angeles the committee working under the leadership of Douglas White had secured more than 5000 signatures to the formal petition and that the first 750 blanks sent to San Diego were exhausted more than a week ago. Here are some of the men announced by Curry as in charge of his preliminary campaign in their several counties:

San Diego—Judge George F. Fuller, Senator Leroy A. Wright, former Senator M. A. Ward. Orange—Horace McPhee of the Santa Ana Blade, former assemblyman Clyde Bishop and Supervisor George Angle. Imperial—Judge McNamara and Al Schenk of Calexico, secretary of the Republican county committee. Riverside—County Clerk Pilcher and S. D. Pelton, secretary of the county committee. San Bernardino—Assemblyman Flavell, Rex. Goodsell and Frank Nutter. Santa Barbara—Henley Booth. San Luis Obispo—Former Assemblyman Warren M. John. Kern—J. R. Dorsey. Kings—Former Assemblyman William McGuire.

CONGRESS SHOULD PAY ITS DEBTS

(From the Riverside Press.)

Under the above heading the Oakland Enquirer discusses the claim of the Southern Pacific for repaying the break in the Colorado river and saving the farms and towns of the Imperial valley from destruction. The Enquirer is one of the strongest and most outspoken anti-railroad papers in the state when it comes to political questions, but it recognizes the justice of this claim and does not hesitate to urge its payment. It says:

It would seem on the face of it that a billion dollar congress should be able to pay its debts, but the action of the senate and house of representatives with reference to the claims of the Southern Pacific for damming the runaway Colorado river a few years ago gives this belief a heavy lift. When the Colorado river went on a rampage, left its channel and threatened the Imperial valley with destruction Theodore Roosevelt, then president, called upon E. H. Harriman, head of the Southern Pacific system, to employ his engineering department in the work of confining the river within its banks. Government engineers considered this a hopeless task, but Epes Randolph carried out the instructions of the chief to curb the river regardless of expense, and brought to a successful conclusion one of the greatest engineering feats of modern times.

The claim of the Southern Pacific has been repeatedly held up by congress, but it appears that the committee on claims will report favorably to the house and that the Southern Pacific will receive the million and a half dollars which it expended in damming the Colorado river. It is hoped that this action will be taken. That the Southern Pacific's claim has been held up these several years is neither flattering to the common honesty of congress nor a tribute to that body's sense of fair play.

There is no question but that the faith of the government was pledged by President Roosevelt to the payment of this claim, and was on the strength of assurance from him that Mr. Harriman ordered the work done. The railroad stepped in at a most critical time and saved the situation before the slow-moving machinery of the government could have even been gotten to moving on the first preliminaries. We do not know of a paper in Southern California, where the facts are all known and the justice of the claim clearly recognized, that does not endorse the proposition of the repayment of the railroad company. In an individual it would be gross dishonesty to repudiate this debt; and the government of the United States ought to be held to the same standards of common honesty that is expected of individuals.

Judge John D. Works for the United States Senate

Saturday afternoon in Los Angeles Judge John D. Works was selected as the candidate of the independent Republicans of the state for United States Senator.

This selection was made by the Southern California members of the state executive committee of the Lincoln Republican League, in conjunction with other independent Republicans from Los Angeles, Riverside and Orange counties.

The Los Angeles Express has this to say editorially of Judge Works: Not only the Republican party, but all the people of California are to be heartily congratulated upon the candidacy of John D. Works for United States senator.

The long search for a man of recognized ability, of proved integrity, of unquestioned courage, and, last, but not no means least, of sufficient dignity and poise properly to represent the great state of California, is ended. In the person of Judge Works is found a man who measures up in every particular to the qualifications of an ideal senator.

California has need in Washington of a senator who will align himself, not with Aldrich and Cannon, but with the valiant band of progressive Republican senators who today are fighting the people's fight on the floor of the national legislature. Such a man is John D. Works.

California has need in Washington of a senator who will take a broad and comprehensive view of national issues, insisting at the same time on the needs of his constituents, not as a matter of compromise or barter, but as a matter of right and justice. Such a man is John D. Works.

California has need of a senator whose eyes are open to the baneful influences of the political activities of large corporate interests, and who, in making recommendations to public office, will recognize no man actively identified with the political bureau of the Southern Pacific or allied corporations. Such a man is John D. Works.

California has need of a senator who is an ardent supporter of the Roosevelt policies, and who, in the execution of these policies, will not be a strict constructionist, hewing to the letter of the law and ignoring its spirit. Such a man is John D. Works.

California has need of a senator who is acquainted with the needs of the state, who knows its history and who can work in real sympathy with the people in the many grave problems that are immediately related to the development and growth of the state. Such a man is John D. Works.

California has need of a senator who will help to free the shippers of the state from the long-practiced freight robbery of the railroads, and who will use his influence to establish at once a Federal line of steamships upon the Pacific, connecting the ports of this state with the Panama canal. Such a man is John D. Works.

Judge John D. Works is one of the strongest men, not alone of Los Angeles, but of California, standing as dean among the lawyers and as one of the recognized leaders of public opinion. He has been a member of the Supreme court of the state, but that fact did not deter him from accepting the call to the post of city council, in which body he is now loyally and earnestly looking out for the people's interest. There never is any doubt where he stands on the vital issues of the day.

Southern California is justly proud of such a citizen, and it is with pleasure that this section of the state submits to the voters of California the name of John D. Works as candidate for the United States senate.

The Political Watchtower

It has been some time since there has been any new development in the way of candidates for the courthouse offices, and just at present the township offices seem to be receiving their share of attention.

Constable Sid Smithwick, Republican, is out for re-election from the Santa Ana township. Lafayette Flood of Santa Ana, a Republican, is the latest candidate for township office. He wants to be constable. Santa Ana township has two constables, and unless another or others pop up, Smithwick and Flood will be the Republican nominees. City Officer Boynton is talked of as a probable Republican candidate. That Constable C. E. Jackson will ask and doubtless receive the Democratic nomination for constable in this township is conceded. Justice Smithwick, J. B. Cox and H. M. Seymour ask the Republican nomination for justice. As yet the Democrats have no candidates for justice.

Westminster township has two candidates for constable, one being J. M. Clark of Westminster, incumbent, who was appointed to the position. The other is M. W. Sweetzer of Garden Grove, who has been Sheriff Lacy's resident deputy at the Grove.

Orange is taking considerable interest in its township matters. There are four or five candidates for each of the offices, justice and constable. There is a very strong possibility that the coming election will shove the township up a notch, the class being based on population. It is contended that Orange will have even more township officers than Santa Ana, owing to the difference in classification of the two cities. At present the Orange justice is also city recorder. Santa Ana township justice and Santa Ana city recorder are separate offices. Should Orange go to the top notch with the next election it will be entitled to two justices and two constables, each with a salary of $75 a month. Which $75 looks mighty good.

Recently appointed verification deputies are as follows:

For W. W. Shannon, candidate for state printer, George Prather; for H. A. Wassum, sheriff, E. R. Bradbury; for Theo. Lacy, sheriff, G. Y. Pyatt; for Frank Vegely, assessor, C. A. Barton; for W. B. Williams, clerk, R. A. McKee and J. S. Perry; for L. A. West, district attorney, E. R. Bradbury; for J. C. Metzger, treasurer, A. E. Rowley; for R. P. Mitchell, school superintendent, G. W. Bird; for C. P. Pann, treasurer, B. T. Beale and J. C. Gowan; for C. L. Conway, treasurer, W. W. Crosier; for C. E. Ruddock, sheriff, Isaac Fields and J. H. Scott; for C. R. Schenck, surveyor, C. W. Nowland; for W. M. Scott, assessor, Robert McClintock; for T. A. Winbiger, coroner and public administrator, Leon T. Shadel; for J. L. McBride, surveyor, W. D. Seely; for O. H. Coulter, assemblyman, L. N. Brooks, E. T. Langley and A. B. Paul; for J. H. Edwards, supervisor second district, G. W. Moore, Robert McClintock and Jacob Walton; for H. H. Hale, supervisor third district, F. M. West; for Robert Speed, supervisor fifth district, C. R. Ward and Lew H. Wallace; for Jerome Fulson, supervisor second district, T. E. Niles; for John Hahn, supervisor third district, Fritz Ruhmann; for Ed. Smithwick, justice of the peace Santa Ana township, E. L. Vegely; for H. M. Seymour, justice Santa Ana township, M. Matthews; for Sid Smithwick, constable Santa Ana township, E. L. Vegely; for M. W. Sweetzer, constable Westminster township, T. E. Niles; for J. M. Clark, constable Westminster township, Coe Clark.

A. A. Mills of Anaheim Discusses Good Roads

Editor Register:—Now that a highway commission has been appointed, composed of men whose business success and integrity is beyond question, a general discussion of the good roads question would seem to be a peculiarly fitting theme. Heretofore there has been but a very limited discussion on the merits of the question. Even the advocates of the proposition do not grasp the question in its entirety. As an illustration Dr. MacMullen, in an open letter some months ago, showed that not only were our roads in a deplorable condition, made doubly bad by the floods that had just swept the valley, but that all of the principal bridges in the county were falling to pieces, and must be replaced. After vividly and truthfully portraying the conditions of the roads and the bridges, as they are, he suggested that about $600,000 bonds be voted to build both good roads and new bridges, apportioning $60,000 for the bridges.

In order to get the figures on bridges I wrote Mr. Corbaley of Los Angeles, a bridge contractor, who last year built a bridge between Fillmore and Bardsdale, and who also drove the piling at the Olive bridge recently, asking as to the cost of bridges. He writes:

"The contract price for the bridge between Bardsdale and Fillmore, Ventura county, Cal., was about $37,000 and the length of the bridge was 920 feet. This did not include the earth approaches to the bridge, which were about 3000 feet in length and cost approximately $15,000. An average steel bridge of first-class-type would cost from $50 to $80 per lineal foot, depending to a great extent upon the foundations required for the structure. To build a first class bridge at Olive, you would be safe in making an approximate estimate of $60 per lineal foot."

As the Olive bridge is about 1400 feet long, actual measurement, it would cost $84,000 for this bridge alone, with its present length.

Engineer Loder of the Los Angeles highway commission, some months ago gave the writer an estimate of $8000 per mile for the good paved roads, including grading, culverts, and small bridges. As it will require approximately 140 miles of the paved roads to reach all towns in the county it is evident that Dr. MacMullen's suggestion is nearly a million dollars too low.

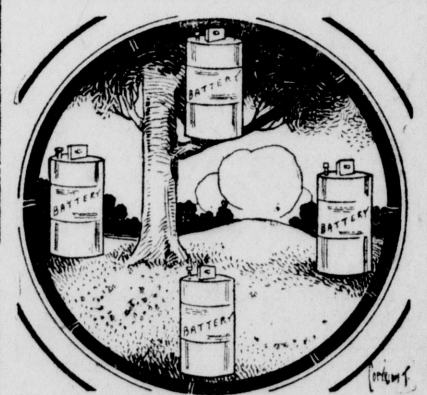

If the estimate of these men prove correct, 140 miles of the paved roads will cost $1,120,000. As to bridges, it has been proposed that under protection districts it would be best to confine the Santa Ana river to a channel not to exceed 700 feet. At this width the four bridges over the Santa Ana river would cost approximately $168,000; three other bridges, two over Santiago creek and one on the road between Fullerton and Anaheim, at 400 feet each, $72,000; approaches, $25,000; making a total of $265,000 for the main bridges; or $1,385,000 for the roads and bridges. Office and incidental expenses would swell this to nearly one and a half million dollars. These figures are not given to in any way forestall the action of the highway commission, but to correct what I consider a fundamental error that the friends of the proposition seem to entertain.

In order to bring the cost of the paved roads within the $8000 per mile, all of the long stretches between outlying towns must be reduced to ten feet in width for the paved portion. On either side, this is shouldered by a strip of oil and gravel, making a fine smooth road 24 feet wide, much wider than the traveled portion of the same roads at present.

Let us all understand the question and work intelligently for good roads. If there is a man in the county against good roads, let us hear from him.

DEDICATION WEEK IS NEAR

Congregationalists Will Soon Open Handsome Church for Service

Dedication week will be a red letter epoch in the history of the First Congregational church of Santa Ana. It is being eagerly looked forward to. It will open with the dedication of a beautiful church, now almost completed, that has been under way for several months. The date of dedication is now thought will be Sunday, April 10, although this may be changed to a date of a week or so later, owing to a possible delay in setting the pipe organ.

The program as outlined at present is as follows: Dedication service, Sunday morning, April 10, President James H. Blaisdell of Pomona College, preaching the dedicatory sermon. Uniform service, Sunday afternoon, talks by local pastors, sacred music by choir and greetings in period or by letter from former pastors of the Congregational church, Sunday evening.

Monday afternoon and evening, fellowship meeting of visitors from churches of Southern California, with Wm. Horace Day giving an address on "The Place of the Church in Modern Life." Tuesday evening, pipe organ recital.

Wednesday evening, reception to the people of Santa Ana, for inspection of the new church.

Thursday evening, annual church union and supper.

Friday evening, young people's social.

The pipe organ for the new church and the new pews have arrived in Santa Ana and the setting of the pews was begun today. Either this week or on Monday next the pipe organ will be installed. With but few exceptions the various lines of work on the new building are completed or so nearly so that this week will see the church ready for occupancy. The Congregationalists and their friends are feeling greatly pleased at the near fruition of their efforts to erect and equip an edifice that will be a beautiful church home and an addition to the many handsome church buildings of Santa Ana.

SEWING MACHINE AGENCY BUYS MANY REO CARS

—No fewer than 200 orders were placed for Reo models by the enterprising managers of sewing machine agencies, florists, laundries and bakeries throughout the country within the last week, the makers claim. Coincident with the enormous demand for this utility Reo comes the news that J. E. Levi & Co., the Georgia Reo distributors, recently sold twenty-five of these convertible Reos to the manager of a wide-awake and successful Atlanta sewing machine agency. The big order was secured after a thorough investigation had been made between the relative merits of the Reo and the best cars sold in Atlanta. Mr. Levi says that the new Reo left-hand drive, its one-piece crank case and its big 34-inch tires of standard make, smooth running and powerful four-cylinder motor, high quality and low price are factors that are simply irresistible with careful buyers.

The parlors of the pretty new home of Mrs. Whidden were most invitingly decorated in a green and white color scheme, and the ladies responded in an animated way to the cheery environment. Needlework furnished dainty employment for fair fingers, and two pleasant readings by Miss Corinne Burns added to the entertainment of the company. Delicious refreshments were served on small tables, over which the cheerful chat of the afternoon was continued.

Those invited to enjoy Mrs. Whidden's hospitality were Mesdames C. F. McKelvey of Los Angeles, Amanda F. Cole of Berkeley, Mrs. H. A. Peabody of Newport Beach, Mrs. S. S. ## HITTING BEEM FOR THE NORTH

Migration of Hoboes Will Soon End Necessity of Keeping up Rockpile

The hoboes are migrating north. That the season in the Sunny South is rapidly drawing to a close is indicated by the size of the gang on the city rockpile. Instead of twenty or more as there was a month ago, now there are but five of the tribe on duty in the stackade back of the city jail. The officers say that by next week the necessity of keeping up the rockpile will have passed away until the time comes when cold weather brings to the minds of those traveling in the north a certain so-called job in San Diego.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Thirty members of the senate are in the last year of their present terms. The conventions or elections of the summer and fall will decide, in almost all the cases, whether the toga wearers shall return to their law practice or disport for six years more in the marble temple of legislation on the hill.

In regard to several of the senators the question has already been settled. The return of Senator Isidor Rayner has been assured by the action of the Maryland legislature. Senator Hernandez De Sota Money, the Democratic leader, will retire to his plantation in Mississippi. They take a senatorial situation by the forelock down in Mississippi and in line with the honorable custom of John Sharp Williams, statesman, gentleman, scholar, lawyer and planter, was chosen several years ago to succeed Money. Williams was then leader of the Democrats and one of the most popular members of the House. Senator Flint (California) has said he would not be a candidate for re-election. In a statement issued a short time ago he explained that the great expense of carrying on a campaign under the new California primary law was beyond his means and that, besides, he felt it his duty to earn more money than comes in the senate pay envelope to provide for the future of his family.

At the head of the list, alphabetically and otherwise, of those who will toe the mark and take the oath next March 4 will be one Senator Aldrich, from Rhode Island. A vagrant rumor went the rounds last summer that Aldrich had decided to retire. When it was brought to his attention he remarked that he hadn't passed out authority to anybody to make such a statement. So he'll come back.

They have been trying to build a fire under Senator Hale in the thirty state of Maine but the senator's friends declare that he will return again just as he has for thirty years. He stands beside Aldrich at the head of the regular organization in rank but not in influence. Other members of the old guard likely to return are Lodge of Massachusetts, and Keane of New Jersey, while Burrows of Michigan and Scott of West Virginia, say they will be here, too, though they are fighting for the honor in the face of right lively opposition.

Four of the band of progressives in the senate are under the fire of the "interests" and, according to widely circulated reports, of the regular Republicans, but they are fighting on cheerfully with the expectation of putting in six years more at the old stand. La Follette is, of course, an object of especial solicitude and extraordinary efforts are being made to overturn Wisconsin, where he has no friends but the people. Beveridge, now the undisputed Republican leader in Indiana and a strong force in the senate is up for re-election. Burket has W. J. Bryan, among other issues, on his hands in Nebraska, and Clapp seeks recognition in Minnesota where they are up to date and don't have moss on their political doctrines.

In the group of those who must be born again as senators if they are going to help govern the country and advance the light of civilization generally are: Bulkeley of Connecticut, Carter of Montana, Clark of Wyoming, Culberson of Texas, Daniel of Virginia, Depew of New York, Dick of Ohio, Du Pont of Delaware, Frazier of Tennessee, McCumber of North Dakota, Nixon of Nevada, Oliver of Pennsylvania, Page of Vermont, Piles of Washington, Sutherland of Utah, Tallafiero of Florida, and Warner of Missouri.

Of the expiring thirty there are twenty-four Republicans and six Democrats.

"The crow is a much abused bird and it is time that someone said a good word for his old black coat," remarked Dr. C. Hart Merriam, Chief of the Biological Survey.

"Instead of being an enemy of the farmer, as is generally believed," continued Dr. Merriam, "the crow is one of his best friends and the protector of his crops. True, during corn planting time, the crow's bill is turned against the farmer—during one month and that month only, he is his enemy. But during the other eleven months the crow is really working overtime for him. It eats thousands upon thousands of destructive insects and bugs every week and when it comes to feeding its young, gives them a diet composed almost entirely of worms and insects that prey upon the crops.

"Therefore, it makes me righteously indignant every time I see anyone try to kill a crow. These trials, however, are not very often crowned with success, for the crow has become one of the wisest of wild creatures as the result of hundreds of years of prosecution and misunderstanding.

"The value of many of our birds is unfortunately unknown to the farmers whom they are striving so hard to protect. The oriole, for instance, is the only bird that will eat the fuzzy caterpillars which are so destructive to many varieties of trees. Were it not for the woodpeckers there would be no forests, for they go after and keep down the enormous numbers of worms that attack the trees.

"The only bird that I would really be glad to see destroyed in this country is the English sparrow. He is utterly worthless to the farmer or the orchard owner; he is dirty, quarrelsome and drives away the song birds. Just at present the Survey is striving with all its might and main to keep him out of Southern California. So far we have been successful in this battle. If the people of the cities and villages would only take up the crusade against this little pest, they might easily get rid of him, and the beautiful song birds would come back. The sparrow is easily trapped and easily poisoned; but every time an organized effort is made to rid a locality of the nuisance, the crusaders are met with the mistaken sentimentality of a few who know nothing about the merits of the case, and are scared off by the cry of 'Save the little birds' that is set up in the papers and from the pulpit. The English sparrow has no more right to exist than rats, mice, scorpions, tarantulas, or any other noxious creatures that are recognized as enemies of our society."

A sarcastic comment upon the present economical administration was received by the Secretary of the Treasury today from a person signing himself "5500 clerk" as follows:

"During the past year, by omitting to cross my 't's' or dotting my 'i's,' I have saved the government two cents in ink. Will you please add this to my salary? I am now using my lead pencil down to one-half inch. I hope in this way to save another cent. Long live this economical administration."

GROWS HAIR ON BALD HEADS

A Remedy That Costs Nothing If It Fails to Do As Claimed

—Resorcin is one of the latest and most effective germ-killers discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, also a powerful antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its nutriment, and thus creates a clean and healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpine is a well known agent for restoring the hair to its natural color, where the loss of color has been due to a disease. Yet it is not a coloring matter or dye.

The famous Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of Resorcin, Beta Naphthol and Pilocarpine, combined with pure alcohol because of its cleansing and antiseptic qualities. It makes the scalp healthy, nourishes the hair, revitalizes the roots, supplies hair nourishment and stimulates a new growth.

We want you to try a few bottles of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic on our personal guarantee that the trial will not cost you a penny if it does not give you absolute satisfaction. That's proof of our faith in this remedy and it should indisputably demonstrate that we know what we are talking about when we say that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will grow hair on bald heads, except of course where baldness has been of such long duration that the roots of the hair are entirely dead, the follicles closed and grown over, and the scalp is glazed.

Remember, we are basing our statements upon what has already been accomplished by the use of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, and we have the right to assume that what it has done for hundreds of others it will do for you. In any event you cannot lose anything by giving it a trial on our liberal guarantee. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Santa Ana only at our store.—The Rexall Store, Dean's Drug Store.

ADVERTISE THEIR LOVE

Curious Appeals in the Newspapers of Southern Italy

(From the New York Sun.) The printed love letters in the advertising columns of papers in Southern Italy fill the tourist with wonder mingled with deep respect for the sentiment which will pay for their insertion. The following letter taken from the Palermo Ora, contained 174 words, which at the advertising rate would cost $1.75. If the Italian saying, "a lira is a dollar," is true, this would equal a bill of $8.70, which would require a pretty devoted American lover to pay:

Dearest Little One: What have I done to thee? Why this silence after thy promise? I experience from it a grief so violent that it renders me helpless.

Thou art good, my Santuzza, as good as dear; thou knowest how this makes me suffer. Why dost thou do it? Thou knowest how I love thee, that thou art my religion. Have I offended thee? I seek intense occupation to keep me calm, but a thousand thoughts gnaw my soul. Perhaps while you amuse yourself you do not know how your silence agitates me. O dear Madonna mine, darling, darling, my blessed joy, do not forget me; thou art my life, all there is for me, my good Santuzza.

I could not longer live without thee. Forgive me if I have offended thee in any way, blessed little bird. Here all is as if thou wert to arrive at any moment. I seek to create for myself this most beautiful illusion, ever speaking to thee, vainly expecting news from thee with every post, with a violently beating heart.

Do not believe me bad; I love thee so much; I kiss thy dear lips, thy most entrancing little countenance, all infinite passion and tenderness. I am insane to hear once more thy dear, enchanting voice.

There were eleven letters of this kind in the same issue of the Ora, about an average number for a Palermo paper. Such letters are found in all Italian papers, but they get shorter and shorter as you travel north until in Milan one line in the "agony column" suffices to express the lover's anguish.

A style which seems theatrical to an American seems perfectly natural to an Italian. He will write exactly this sort of love letter in private.

MAIL SAINZ PAPERS TODAY

Executive Secretary Believes
Prisoner Can be Returned
Across Line

District Attorney Complimented on Set of Requisition Papers Prepared

District Attorney Davis received a letter today from E. F. Mitchell, Gov. Gillett's executive secretary, saying that extradition papers for Rosario Sainz, held in jail at Ensenada, Mex., for murder committed in this county last September, would be mailed from San Francisco to Davis today.

It is generally known that extradition from the ordering Mexican states is no easy matter, but Mitchell expresses the opinion that Sainz can be brought back. In order to make this easier he has taken the papers to San Francisco to be presented today to the Mexican consul for a proper certificate. The consul's certificate is not necessary, but the governor's office thought it best to delay the papers two days in order to get the certificate.

Officer T. G. Cervantes will go after Sainz. He will start probably Wednesday or Thursday.

Sainz shot Jose Machado at a sheep shearers' camp. The bullet was probably intended for Santos Carrisosa.

In his letter today to the district attorney, Mitchell says:

"We have done considerable wiring back and forth with the governor of lower California, and trust you will have no trouble, but even through the Department of State at Washington at times there is considerable trouble in bringing fugitives from Mexico, not only with our state, but Texas and other states.

"In case papers are not honored in Mexico, of course we stand ready at any time to do our part if called upon.

"We wish to compliment you upon your very excellent set of papers, which are among the best that ever came to this office, and never would have been returned to you had extradition been asked of any other government except Mexico.

"We will mail honored requisition papers to you from San Francisco Monday."

"WAKE-UP JOHNNIE CAMP" IS BOOMING

Excitement at Fever Heat Over
Gold Strike Thirty-six Miles
From Barstow

SAN BERNARDINO, March 21.—Excitement continues at fever heat over the gold strike at the "Wake-Up Johnnie Camp," thirty-six miles north of Barstow. Teams are daily leaving there for the scene, carrying provisions and paraphernalia. The strike was made among the Alford Mountains, rich gold ore being found in porphyry dikes, between slate walls. Barstow business men sent out a committee Thursday to investigate, it not being desired to give circulation to a fake strike. The committee has returned with even more encouraging reports than those first received. One member found placer gold in the gulches below the camp.

There remain sixty-seven members of the gang to be tried. The prisoners were accused of conducting a vast swindling game through matches, fake horse races and other confidence games. ## SALOON IS THE ISSUE

Newport Beach Election of Trustees is on Question:
Wet or Dry

Eight Candidates up for Places on Board, Three Are to be Elected

The issue in the municipal campaign now on at Newport Beach is: "Wet or dry?"

Shall Newport Beach have a saloon? It is well understood at the beach city that on that question the candidates for city trustees are lined up.

Two of the present board of trustees will hold over. These two are C. A. Barton and A. N. Smith. Three new trustees are to be elected to take the place of the men whose terms expire.

A large number of Santa Anans who own property at the beach are taking an active interest in the fight. These men have cottages at the beach, and their families spend their vacations at Newport Beach, which city includes in its corporate limits West Newport, Newport Beach, East Newport and Balboa.

Newport Beach had a saloon for one year after it was incorporated, and many of those whose families were there on vacations, when possibly the head of the house had to remain here, report instances going to show that the saloon was a menace.

The Newport News says of the campaign:

"W. S. Simpkins has withdrawn from the race for trustee and C. A. Gee has quit the contest for marshal. This leaves eight men in the race for the three positions on the board of trustees. Of these four are wet and four are dry men. The temperance advocates are John McMillan, Jos. Ferguson, J. A. Ricker and A. A. Lester, while those favoring the establishment of a saloon are S. L. Collins, John King, C. L. Lancaster and R. J. Stauss."

POLTERA MYSTERY RECALLED BY DEATH

D. W. Dwrie of Hollywood is Found Dead—Possible
Suicide

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—The dead body of D. W. Dwrie, the man who discovered the bloody shirt in the Anna Poltera murder mystery, was found yesterday morning in his ranch cabin near Tropic.

Investigation during the day on the part of two deputies and the examination of Autopsy Surgeon George W. Campbell led to the preliminary conclusion that Dwrie had taken his own life, but this conclusion is not final. Investigation is progressing. He was shot through the heart and the main artery in his left wrist was severed. A gash in the throat had severed the jugular vein and there were slashes across his legs.

A CHANGE OF HEADS.

The Trick a Dusky Ruler Wanted a Magician to Perform.

Thurston, the magician, had many interesting experiences during his professional tour of the globe several years ago. He went to all sorts of outlandish places and appeared before rulers of many strange lands and communities. On one occasion his manager had arranged that Thurston should give an exhibition before the ruler of a province called Pagopago, in the Fiji Islands. In the crowd that saw the exhibition were many of the black and yellow slaves of the chieftain. All the spectators were amazed at the many strange manifestations of the black art that Thurston offered, but no trick appealed so strongly to the assembled retinue and to the chieftain as that in which a white duck was made to appear with a black head and a black duck, after a moment's manipulation, with the head of the white duck. The trick had to be repeated, and then the chieftain engaged in a long whispered conversation with the interpreter.

"What is desired?" queried the obliging trick player.

The interpreter coughed apologetically and then responded: "Respected sir, our honored sire wishes you to take two of his slaves and put a yellow head on a black man and the black head on the body of a yellow servant. Our honored sire thinks it would be very funny."

"Tell his royal highness," Thurston replied, "that I could give a yellow man a black eye, but I would not like to attempt to make his entire head black."—Philadelphia Record.

MONEY IN JUNK.

The Stuff is Always in Demand, and the Profits Are Large.

Up and down the dirty back alleys drives the junkman, singing his mournful, nasal cry, loading his rickety wagon with broken scraps and pieces of old iron, an object of pity or of ridicule to most of the uninformed public.

Let him be admired or envied, rather, for if not he himself, at least his employer, is probably making more money than nine out of ten professional men.

Few things are more depressing and unsightly than a little pile of junk as high as a two-story building. One may see such piles in every city, and so far as the casual observer can determine, none of the stuff is ever moved. The piles increase apparently from month to month and grow rustier and rustier, but the men in the business keep on buying.

How are they able to keep so much money tied up? Where do they get the large amount of capital which seems to be necessary?

They borrow from the banks, like any other business man, on the security of their stock in trade.

"No better security," the president of almost any bank will declare. "It can neither burn nor blow away. It can't be damaged by water or smoke. Where is there a collateral like that? It is absolutely safe. The foundries and the nut and bolt works and the stove factories can't get along without it. It pays the largest profits of any business to which we lend money, and these profits fluctuate very little. Junk is always in demand. The men in that business are excellent customers."—Technical World Magazine.

Almost Insulted.

Amid the lace bargains in one of the large department stores the other day a shopper engrossed in thought set her little Japanese spaniel on the counter. One of the salesgirls, not seeing the little dog, threw a remnant of reduced lace over him and entirely submerged him. When the woman went to look for her pet he was not to be found, but several shrill yelps, accompanied by an upheaval of the lace, betrayed his presence. He was quickly rescued from his predicament, and the woman, showering kisses upon his moist, up-turned nose, said: "Did they cover mamma's precious with cheap fifty cent lace?"

The salesgirl, who evidently had cultivated diplomacy, assured the dog's mistress that the lace had been reduced from $1 to 50 cents, and the woman took her pet away mollified.—Philadelphia Record

Fooled Them.

Every instructor at Chautauqua is required to fill out a paper answering a number of necessary and unnecessary questions. One year there was a remarkably handsome male member of the faculty in whom all the girl students were much interested. "Is he married or unmarried?" became an all absorbing question. Finally some of them had the courage to approach the college secretary and ask if the files might be looked over. And there the handsome professor, anticipating perhaps some such investigation, had recorded his matrimonial pretensions as follows: "Married or single? Yes."

Sweet Revenge.

"It must be fine to be under contract to write exclusively for a big magazine."

"And to have all the other magazines clamoring for your work, eh?"

"Just so. Think of the satisfaction of sending 'em a printed refusal slip."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

He Hitched.

"Yes. He says his father taught him to hitch his wagon to a star."—Life.

TAFT AND GREY IN TARIFF CONFERENCE

President Greets Canadians
With Hope That Fairness
Will be Done to All

ALBANY, March 21.—President Taft, accompanied by Earl Grey, governor general of Canada, departed for New York today. Both refused to discuss the reported impending Canadian tariff difficulty, which is the object of their conference here in New York today.

Through the Canadian press President Taft sent the following message to Canada concerning the threatened tariff complications:

"I earnestly hope that all difficulties which may arise will be settled in a spirit of fairness to everyone concerned. This applies to anything which may ever arise between our two peoples."

GIRL'S SKELETON FOUND; CASE IS MYSTERIOUS

SAN DIEGO, March 22.—A skeleton, supposed to be that of a girl fourteen or fifteen years old, was found today under a pile of ashes at the White hotel, where W. P. Robinson five years ago killed four persons while crazy from liquor.

Whether the skeleton is that of another victim of Robinson's, or of a later murder, is unknown. It had not been burned, and this fact gave rise to the belief that the dead body had been placed there since the hotel was destroyed by fire, following the quadruple murder.

THE KANSAS TIN SHOP

is watching that fight going on in Philadelphia—with good deal of interest.

We know how it feels to have the combines and associations come down on us because we have been there, have been living right there for the past six or seven years, and now, because we will not join in with the plumbers combine, known as the "Master Plumbers Association," there are but three wholesale houses (handling plumbers goods) that dare sell us the goods we need in our business. The rest of them are afraid our "friends the enemy" will boycott them if they sell us plumbing material. Bah! Those associations have driven a good many men out of business and have promised to do us up—sometime—but we are still here and "doin' biznis" at the old stand.

We don't have any quarrel with union or non-union men. We don't have time, that's what the matter.

We notice that the preachers and some other parties in Philadelphia demand that the street railways in that town "arbitrate," which means that the independent workmen shall quit his job or join the union.

The railway company says "nothin' doin'" and the Kansas Tin Shop says they are right.

Headache from Eye Strain

Eye strain causes more headache than all other causes combined. Many people, especially those studying hard in school, are suffering from headache or a "heavy feeling" in the brow, and do not realize that the cause is a defect or weakness in the eyes. Such cases can be cured with glasses that will correct the error in the eyes.
